OUR MIDNIGHT DISPATCHES. NEW YORK, October 2 .- The deficiency of the Gold Exchange Sank, as a Clearing House for the transactions in gold, has brought out many new plans. The Gold Room this morning, in executive session, passed the following resolution: Resolved, That a Committee of nine be appointed to ascertain whether it be pracfieshle and desirable to organize a Clearance Department to assist in clearing the contracts in gold made by and between the members of the Board, and to report to the Board.

This is to facilitate the balancing of their books, left in a terribly tangled state by their alleged de faulting Cashier, J. H. Sanderson, who is not at the office to-day. They see that no approximate estimate of their losses can be ascertained, but believe themselves able to meet all in a short time, and resume their business.

Acisms, Kimball & Moore so appounce themselves suspended, but example give a correct estimate of their liabilities. They are heavy. They have no unsettled transactions of the street. Their fallure is caused by lossos, both in stock and gold—the principal losses being in the former.
